CLAY CITY, KY., THURSDAY MAY 28, 1914.

NO. 22.

The Truth of It.

In an address to the members of the General Assembly, Ruby Laffoon, among other strange arguments says:

"Kentucky has ample ground to prove that the Companies have no idea of reducing rates until compelled to, no matter what the loss ratio maybe or has been. We beg to call your attention to the statement of receipts and losses in 22 cities and towns of the State which includes all towns which are paying over $50,000 00 per annum in premiums. This list of towns yields over two-thirds of the premium income of the State and we desire to call your attention to the premiums received by all Companies and the amounts paid out for losses together with the excess of premiums over losses—all for the ten years ending December 31, 1913."

The 22 cities show the payment of $33,099,893 00 and the receipt of $16,999,744 00 paid in losses. The remaining $16,100, 149 00 being retained by the companies for keeping our money and returning a little more than half of it to us when we happen to have a fire. The banks would do the same thing and pay us interest for the use of the money, returning dollar for dollar.

Highly Prized Heirloom.

Our editor has found and has bought the old grandfather clock of his great-grandfather, William Lilly. He found it at Winchester in the hands of Mr. J. H. Dawson who sold it to him. It is a very old clock, but is in a pretty fair state of preservation. He is having it done over. This clock is prized very highly by him.

His great grandfather William Lilly, settled in Clark county at Lilly's ferry in the early years of the State, and his farm has never passed from the family. It is now owned by J. H. Crow and brothers who are also great-grand children of William Lilly. —The Madisionian.

Mountain Supts. Headed Off.

School Superintendent J. E. Lauter is a busy man these days, and is being besieged daily by travelers representing the various text-book printers.

On Monday he was called on by nine representatives; Tuesday, eleven more showed up, and on Wednesday another nineteen dropped in, making a total of thirty-nine to call in three days. —Winchester Sun.

Mrs. Hoyt Russell is visiting her sister, Mrs. Harry Shattuck, at Bowling Green. Little Miss Mary Charles Loving went with her to visit her relatives also. Mrs. Loving will join her little daughter at Bowling Green in the visit in a few weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. French, of Levee, spent Saturday and Sunday with their relatives, Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Tipton, near this city.

We are selling the new Royal Sewing Machine, prices from $20.00 up. 10 year guaranty.

Bridge Almost Sure.

Unless the unexpected happens, there will be a bridge at the mouth of Lulbegrud creek between Clark and Estill counties before another winter. The bridge will not cost to exceed $3,000, of which amount Clark county will pay, in proportion to the voters she has with Estill, and this will be at least two-thirds the total or $2,000, Estill will have to pay the other one-third, or $1,000. Citizens of Estill, promoting the bridge, have $1,100 raised by subscription and the county has already appropriated $500, making a total of $1,600 available for the bridge and approach. The remainder of this $1,600, after putting in the bridge, will be used to help build a turnpike from the bridge to Spout Spring, which is less than two miles. When this pike and bridge are completed, there will then be only about ten miles of pike lacking between Winchester and Irvine, and a little over four miles from Clay City to Winchester. When the pike is built to Spout Spring, it will be completed on to Clay City without delay, because the people in this section know how to do things.

A Flour of Merit.

Hardwick & Co., Stanton merchants, have corrected prices in their ad this week. It will pay you to investigate the same. Among other things we notice they are selling Crown flour at only $2 60 per hundred. Crown flour is made by the Mt. Sterling mills and is their first patent flour.

It should be remembered that this mill contributed liberally to the Waltersville bridge fund as did many other Mt. Sterling business men and deserves to sell a good part of the flour in this county, for this reason aside from the superior quality of the flour this mill puts out.

E. Q. McGlone, of Morehead, has been with his brother, E. B. McGlone, a few days this week.

Give us a Modern Account.

The saying often goes to the effect that to learn the home news you must go away from home.

Our attention has been called to an article in a Bluegrass paper which does the mountain people a great injustice. The article appears to have been written by a former mountaineer. Not one-third of the benighted conditions mentioned in this article are to be found in the mountains of today, nor in the past thirty years. Some of the older inhabitants tell us some of these conditions, such as cooking on the open fire, did exist fifty years ago, but similar conditions those days existed in all parts of the United States, because there were very few stoves made. Our grandfathers also had to use the candle because coal oil was yet undiscovered.

To give such an ancient description of the mountains is unfair. We suggest that some young native mountaineer writer of the Bluegrass give a description of modern life in the mountains. We mountaineers are not one-half so bad off as some would have our neighbors believe.

To Visit Old Home.

Mr. and Mrs. John W. Vaughn, of Phoenix, Arizona, have signified their intention of returning to Kentucky about July 1st for an extended visit. They formerly lived at "Peaceful Valley" near Clay City, the old Vaughn homestead, which upon their removal to Arizona about fourteen years ago, passed out of their hands. They have been very prosperous in their new home but long to see Kentucky again. Many friends and relatives will give them a most welcome greeting—Winchester Democrat.

Will Soon Want Name Changed.

A postoffice has been established in Estill county by the name of Cantrill. The people of Estill always were able to stand great endurance and much imposition. They are opening their eyes, however, and before the first sack of mail is delivered at Cantrill, we wager there will be a petition circulated to either discontinue the office or change its name to Thomas.

That two senatorial candidates will have to be named in the primary, as well as the election, is the opinion of Assistant Attorney General M. M. Logan. Political gossip still centers on J. M. Camden as the leading candidate for the appointment.

Mrs. L. M. Sickles, of Portsmouth, Ohio, is visiting her brother, E. N. Wilson, of this city, and Mrs. W. H. Fowler, also of Portsmouth, is visiting her sister, Mrs. Wilson.

Owen Patrick, of Kimbrell, left yesterday morning to attend the commencement exercises at Asbury College, Wilmore. Mr. Patrick was a former student of that College.

Rev. W. W. Strickland, who is preaching up in the White Oak country in Morgan county, made a trip to Stanton during last week.

Mrs. D. R. Clark returned home Saturday. She had been visiting her daughter, Mrs. Myrtice Conlee, for several days at Walnut Grove, in Fayette county.

Mrs. J. C. Hanley and Mrs. Mary Throckmorton were shopping in Lexington last week. Mrs. Throckmorton returned to her home in Jackson on Saturday.

Rev. M. V. Roberts, of Hazel Green, preached last Sunday at the Christian church. All who heard him were more than pleased. He will return for the fourth Sunday in June.

Messrs. Mich Crane and Ben Sewell, of Jackson, were down ver Sunday on their usual trip of inspection. There are none better than we have right here and they are guaranteed to please.

Mrs. Martha Derthick and two children, and Mrs. Azora Parker of Ohio, made a pleasure trip to Natural Bridge Tuesday of this week. The latter also accompanied the writer on his trip to Zachariah last Saturday, where he held services and organized a Sunday School for them.

A letter from John Campbell says that he is "way back up in Breathitt county now and feels lonesome without knowing about the doings of Stanton. So I have decided to subscribe for the Clay City Times and then I can read the Stanton columns and find out almost as much about Stanton as if I lived there." John took the teachers' examination at Jackson and expects to teach the coming year.

Robert Conlee's horse got frightened at Romulus Jackson's mule colt and breaking loose from the hitching post, tore down the main street of town at lightning speed. It was remarkable the way the horse and buggy passed through the narrow stretch between the fence of Dr. Johnson's and the row of trees without tearing the buggy all to pieces. In turning the corner of Dr. Johnson's fence the buggy turned over and threw the horse and several men ran up and caught it. The buggy was badly damaged and the horse badly bruised up. A few minutes later the same horse broke loose again by himself and ran to the depot and took up the railroad track till he came to the fence which stopped him.

Last week there was a large quantity of whiskey brought into our town. Two of our citizens went to Winchester with empty suit cases and brought it in. It is a self evident fact that when ever these two men go to Winchester, they go for that purpose. The last Legislature passed a very severe act and imposes a heavy penalty on anyone bringing whiskey into a local option county. The writer has interviewed a number of our citizens and they said that they would co-operate in seeing that these men were brought before the law. If the law is enforced on this whiskey question, and if the citizen will stand together as a man and see that everybody who goes to another town and brings in whiskey is punished, we can stop this illegal bringing in of whiskey. Every citizen in Stanton ought to stand together and see that no whiskey is brought illegally into our town. It is for their own interest, especially if they have any boys in their home.

We are selling Crown flour at $2 60 per hundred, or 65c for 25 lbs., Monarch flour at $2 40 per hundred, or 60c for 25 lbs., every sack guaranteed to give satisfaction or money refunded—this is Kentucky flour. Sugar 20 lbs. for $1 or $4 75 per hundred, roasted coffee 12c per pound.

The people of Powell and Estill counties have every reason to be proud of their big sister county of Clark. A few years ago when this county wanted a bridge across Lulbegrud creek between this county and Clark, the noble officers of our neighbor responded instantly with three-fourths the cost as the law provides. The funds of Powell being very short, Judge Evans, Squire John W. Swope, and other good citizens of Clark county, went down into their pockets and helped dig up the cash to pay for the necessary right-of-way to get the bridge on the Powell side.

Clark county friends also gave about $200 of the $1,100 raised by private subscription for the Walters' Ferry bridge two miles south of this city.

Now that our twin sister, Estill county, wants a bridge between Estill and Clark counties on Red river; and Estill, like Powell, being in very poor financial condition, has started a subscription fund to help pay Estill's part and build a pike as far into Estill as possible, Clark county citizens have come to their rescue and contributed to the Estill county fund over $500.

These Clark county boys are generous and progressive fellows, and the grand old county with her one hundred thousand dollars safely stacked away in the bank, is always ready to help us more than half way to get over into her borders for social and business purposes.

We thank you, boys, for that little (to you) $500 donation, and we trust that this $500 so freely given, may bring you $500,000 in trade before the passing of just a few years. It makes us feel good to know that we have friends and neighbors with the will and clinks to help us out in time of need.

This editor of the Times has written the above because we feel every word we have said. We were reared at Spout Spring, near the bridge site. The bridge will personally benefit us but little now, but it will benefit our neighbors. The bridge will be just below Lulbegrud creek from Powell, and will be of great benefit to the western portion of this county.

Prohibitions favoring immediate elimination of the whiskey industry, and who claim they are moved purely by a desire for justice and moral advancement for humanity, show a sorry lack of justice and equity (and without these virtues one is surely immoral) because they would in one full swoop confiscate the property and rights of those who have people, like them, do not need it.

In other words, why "Rob Peter to pay Paul"?

The property, in fact, is far worse than worthless. It robs poor people of food and clothing because father must buy the cursed stuff to prevent these millions of dollars from being lost in the liquor industry. There are many good men in that business solely for the profits to be had and not because they have criminal instincts. It is just as reasonable to blame the decent men in the trade with the evils following the abuse of liquor as it would be to condemn the entire ministry because one or comparatively few members of that profession commit heinous crimes. —Winchester Sun.

The whiskey people, as the Sun says, have the property. It should remember, however, that this property is totally worthless, and its worthlessness was known to the owners when it was procured by the whiskey people. Now why should these holders of valuable(?) property be allowed to sell it to other people, when other from those who now hold a lot of worthless property. In the annihilation of the whiskey business there must be a monetary loss to those who have grown fat from the bare living of the poor. In this loss the poor families will gain a living and peaceful and happy homes instead. Isn't this more important? The gain of the poor in this will overbalance the loss of the whiskey rich ten fold.

Let the traffic stop instantly and the loss will fall just where it should fall. The losers will then be getting only a small taste of their own medicine. Though none of them will stare at the poverty that millions of others have had to do that they might be made rich.

Farm Drain Tile

Make Your Wet Land Productive. By the use of drain tile you can turn that low, wet, useless, swampy field into the most productive spot on your farm. Drain tile, properly placed, not only carries off surplus water, it admits air to the soil and makes it easy to work. It improves any soil. The increase in the value of the land is many times the cost of the tile. The first year's crop from tiled land pays for it. Any body can do the work successfully. Write for particulars or call at our plant.
